This year was a very quite year regarding the above claims we could come to any agreement with the local machinery operators in the Kurunelie area, so all the work that was done was with hand held detectors and dry blowers this resulted in a small amount of surface nuggets being found. All pegs and boundary pegs were checked and found to be ok, the rehabilitation work done in previous years is almost covered in bush like the surrounding land of Kurundi station.

Money spent this year is about $1500.00 on fuel and Parts.

Best regards
